

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

In view of the recent favorable decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois on the charter amendment, and the organization of the Chicago Charter Convention, it is certain that the structure of municipal government will be very seriously considered during the coming year. There is, however, no convenient list of the most important sources of information bearing on these problems now of such great interest. The bibliography here presented does not purport to cover all of the books upon municipal government, but includes merely a selected list of such material as particularly bears upon the structure of city government. It includes the charters of all the most important American cities and recent charters of a number of comparatively small cities, the most valuable treatises on municipal government and a number of special reports or investigations of city problems. By no means all of the existing works are cited here, but it is believed that the most important and reliable have been included. It is hoped that this list may be of service to those interested in improving the structure of the local government or governments.

Library Committee

This list was compiled solely with reference to the requirements of the Chicago Charter Convention, hence certain subjects of importance in Chicago at the present time have been emphasized, while topics of perhaps greater interest elsewhere have not been so fully treated. The classification was determined by the organization of the convention into committees. No attempt has been made to give full bibliographical details in collation, but the main pagination has been indicated in all cases. The initials in the margin denote the libraries in which the titles may be found; the list having been compared with the catalogues of the University of Chicago, the John Crerar, the Chicago Public, and the City Club of Chicago libraries. The resources of no one of the libraries has by any means been exhausted, however. The Municipal Library has a representative collection of city charters, but lack of time prevented any attempt to check these, except in so far as they are not in other libraries in the vicinity. The Law Institute Library and the University of Chicago Law Library have valuable collections of state and city codes, session laws and legal text-books, all of which contain material of use to the student of city government. Few administrative reports of the various cities have been given, although many of them are of value. The municipal registers of the larger cities, which usually contain the city charters, should also be consulted. As a general rule titles in foreign languages have been omitted. Whenever necessary, titles have been entered under both the name of the city and the specific subject, except in the case of Chicago. The compiler is under great obligation to Professor Charles Edward Merriam, of the Department of Political Science of the University of Chicago, who has carefully revised the list, and who has been largely instrumental in determining its scope and selection. This list, in somewhat extended form, is to be submitted to the N. Y. State Library School in partial fulfillment of its requirements for graduation. The following are the abbreviations used for the various libraries:

- C.* Chicago Public Library, Washington street, Michigan avenue and Randolph street.
- Ci.* City Club of Chicago, 228 South Clark street.
- J.* The John Crerar Library, Marshall Field Building, 87 Wabash avenue.
- L.* Chicago Law Institute, sixteenth floor, 134 Monroe street.
- M.* Bureau of Statistics and Municipal Library, Room 206, City Hall.
- U.* University of Chicago Library, Press and Law Buildings, Ellis avenue and Fifty-eighth street.
